Go Fish Quarter 4

Shuffle and deal 6 cards to each player. Place the remaining cards face-down. Player to the left of the dealer begins by showing and reading one of his/her cards. He/She then asks any one person playing if they have the card that was read. If the person asked has the card(s), they must give all the cards with that word to the player. The player then shows and reads another card. If the person does not have any cards with that word, he/she says, "Go Fish". The player then takes one card from the face-down cards and places it in his/her hand. If the player picks up the card he/she was looking for the player then shows and reads another word. Once a player has 3 cards with the same word the cards are placed face up on the table.

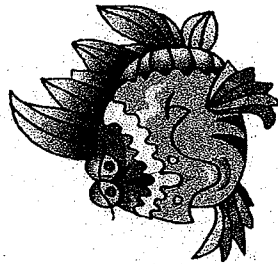

The game ends when the first person is out of cards. The winner of the game is the person with the most groups of cards in front of them.
